To Whom It May Concern:

Killum Pest Control has been our residential exterminating company for the past five years. After trying other companies and methods of pest control, we switched to the courteous and professional services of the folks at Killum. They were able to solve our termite problem with the Sentricon method, and we have been totally pleased with the results. They also service our residence on a quarterly basis and are always dependable, friendly and willing to answer questions or solve any problems related to insects, rodents or other pests. We would highly recommend the reliable and expert services of Killum Pest Control.

Sincerely,

Nolan Ryan
